CELEBRATING NORWICH'S 100-YEAR RING TRADITION

Norwich University's ring tradition began in 1923, when the senior cadets had a ring made for each member of the graduating class. Traditions, designs and the size of the ring have evolved over the past 100 years, but one thing has stayed constant: the pride every graduate feels for having earned their Norwich class ring.

Four initiatives have been launched in celebration of the ring centennial:

- » Spirit of the Ring Fund
- » 100 Years of NUCC Rings by Richard Prevost '76
- » Wooden NU Class Ring plaques
- » Bonds of Gold ring melt program
