Chairmen's Letters

I am honored to present you with the fiscal year 2009 Annual Report. I am proud of this document as it reflects our accomplishments of the past year and demonstrates your steadfast commitment as we prepare to embark on our third century of service to our Nation.

In the midst of an incredibly difficult economic environment, Norwich has continued to thrive. We have persevered through many challenges since our founding in 1819, and our resilience guides us toward our future success. The past year has been a momentous one for Norwich: The Regimental Band marched in New York City's St. Patrick's Day Parade; "Shock Platoon" established itself as the top drill team in the nation; Men's and Women's Soccer advanced to the NCAA Championships; and the School of Graduate Studies launched the master of science in business continuity, the first such program in the country. This is but a small sampling of our achievements – our students are living the Norwich motto, "I Will Try," and are doing great things every day. You can read about two of our outstanding students, Drill Company commander Cadet Arturo Diaz '10 and scholar-athlete Ally Daniels '10, on pages 18 and 19.

Another component of this report of which I am deeply proud is the recognition of our generous donors. The achievements of Norwich in the past year could not have happened without the support of each and every one of you. You are our history, our students are the face of today, and your abiding belief in our mission is securing Norwich a place of prominence in the future of this great republic. Thank you for all you do for Norwich. I am so proud to serve as your chairman of the board and I am so proud of you.

If you are interested in lending your support by participating in the Norwich Forever! campaign, contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 802.485.2300 or campaign@norwich.edu.

Norwich forever!

Gordon R. Sullivan '59
General, U.S. Army (Ret.)
Chairman of the Board of Trustees

We are building momentum, we are achieving our goals, and we are paving the road for the future. At Homecoming in October we will celebrate the completion of the Norwich Forever! campaign. We kicked off the campaign in September 2005 with a goal of $55 million, and to date we have raised more than $78 million! Our success has been the result of the continued and increased generosity of our alumni and friends through current gifts and pledges, as well as future commitments through estate plan gifts. To all of you who have helped us achieve this success, thank you.

The impact that the Norwich Forever! campaign is having on every facet of this University is undeniable. Toward an initial goal of $6.5 million we have raised almost $10.7 million for academic program enhancements. Even more impressive, we have raised $13.7 million for student scholarships, more than double our goal of $5 million. And to ensure the long-term future of Norwich, we have raised close to $13.8 million in 1819 Circle deferred gifts.

Though we will begin celebrating the success of the Norwich Forever! campaign this fall, fundraising efforts will continue through December 31, 2009, the official close of the campaign. You should all be extremely proud of what we have accomplished together; however, I know that with your help we can do even more. In order to capitalize on the momentum gained and keep moving forward, Norwich will launch a smaller, more narrowly focused fundraising initiative for the years 2010 through 2012. During this period we will continue to raise money for academics; unrestricted funds for our greatest current needs; deferred gifts; and specific capital projects focused on recreation and athletic opportunities for our students.

Then, in 2013 we will initiate the planning for the Bicentennial Campaign, which will culminate in our having achieved the goals set forth in the NU2019 strategic plan. Because of you, Norwich University has made great strides during the Norwich Forever! campaign, and I ask that you join me in continuing the momentum to help reach our bicentennial in 2019.

Norwich University has a proud and distinguished heritage, offers broad educational opportunities, and enjoys a global reputation for producing leaders who serve with distinction and integrity in both the public and private sectors. And thanks to your belief in our mission, we are building the resources to continue this legacy for generations to come.

Norwich forever!

Pierson G. Mapes '59
Norwich Forever! Campaign Chair

President's Message

Midway through this year's commencement ceremony, as nearly 400 undergraduates came forward to receive their diplomas, I took particular notice of a few women and men who, I believe, will remain close to Norwich University throughout their lives.

I could talk about any one of those students with great pride, but I am going to mention two: Ashley Lally and John Szewczyk. Ashley, now a second lieutenant in the Army, majored in studies in war and peace, captained the women's rugby team in her senior year, and received the BG Elizabeth P. Hoisington Award as the top commissioning female cadet in the Army ROTC program. John, a mechanical engineering major, participated in NU VISIONS Abroad trips to Tanzania and Nicaragua, helped build homes in New Orleans during his alternative spring breaks, served as an AmeriCorps team leader for two years, and managed the Office of Volunteer Programs in his senior year.

Joining me on the dais that morning were several Norwich alumni, including Gordon R. Sullivan '59 and A.J. Bartoletto '52, two wonderful gentlemen who have given selflessly to Norwich. I have heard General Sullivan talk about his commencement ceremony. On the day he received his diploma from Norwich, there were alumni speakers who had served in World War I, and some of those gentlemen reminisced about taking classes taught by Norwich alumni who had fought in the Civil War.

That makes for a century and a half of Norwich history with traditions and values passed from alumnus to student, generation to generation. Ashley, John, and their fellow seniors may not have realized it that morning, but as the University's newest alumni they now share the responsibility to make certain Norwich does indeed endure forever.

"Norwich Forever" is more than the name of a campaign or a punchy way to conclude a speech: It is a conviction shared by members of the Norwich family and a promise to future generations.

I encourage you to pause for a moment to reflect on the commitment required for an institution to exist for nearly two centuries. James Monroe was president of the United States – all 21 states – when Alden Partridge founded the American Literary, Scientific, and Military Academy in 1819. Abe Lincoln was ten years old. The Erie Canal was under construction. There were no railways in America.

Consider the challenges we have overcome in our 190-year history. Norwich has survived the Civil War, two World Wars, the Great Depression, multiple recessions, and countless social upheavals. The belt-tightening of the past year – while painful, particularly given the positions eliminated – pales in comparison.

And here we are today, welcoming a class with more than 750 freshmen, drawing students from across America and several continents, continuing to prepare young adults for careers in the military, business world, and government. In addition, our School of Graduate Studies not only attracts students from around the world, they are pursuing their degrees while working all across the globe, taking their Norwich-learned values with them.

We still educate our students with an unyielding emphasis on honor, integrity, and teamwork – attributes that seem all too scarce today.

Captain Partridge's experiment in an "American system of education" thrives due to the generosity of alumni and friends who love this school. The future of our University is made possible by your commitment to Norwich and your investment in our students. You are building the bridge to the future of our University. With new alumni like Ashley Lally and John Szewczyk, our future is bright.

The Norwich Forever! campaign ends this year. But the commitment to Norwich Forever lives on.

Richard W. Schneider
RADM, USCGR (Ret.)
President

Thank You!

About This Report

This annual report acknowledges gifts from our alumni, students, parents, friends, faculty, staff, corporations, foundations and other organizations received by Norwich University between June 1, 2008 and May 31, 2009. The report is compiled by the staff of the Development and Alumni Relations Office.

The names that appear under each class year reflect gifts of cash, securities, and other appreciated assets, matching gifts, planned gifts and in-kind contributions. For more information on making a gift to Norwich, visit our website at www.alumni.norwich.edu, email development@norwich.edu or telephone the Development and Alumni Relations Office at (802) 485-2300.

The names of contributors and board volunteers who passed away during the 2009 fiscal year appear as "(Deceased)." In addition, gifts made in memory of members of the Norwich family appear in the section titled "Memorial Gifts."

Volunteer Boards

Norwich University wishes to acknowledge the service and dedication of all of the members of our volunteer boards, whose time, talent and treasure enrich our institution and the great Norwich community. Thank you!

The Partridge Society Membership

The mission and purpose of the Partridge Society is to provide the financial resources necessary to secure the future of Norwich University. There are three categories of Partridge Society membership: Annual Members contribute annual gifts of $1,000 or more during the University's fiscal year; Lifetime Members, Generals and Chairman's Diamond Club Members have cumulative giving of $20,000 or more; and members of the 1819 Circle have made a planned or deferred gift to the University.

The following list acknowledges and celebrates gifts received and memberships granted between June 1, 2008 and May 31, 2009. Gifts received and memberships granted after May 31, 2009 will appear in the FY2009-2010 Annual Report.

Building Bridges

“Great universities stay vibrant when alumni invest in students. That’s certainly true at Norwich,” said Maj. Mark Curley ’89, president of the Norwich University Alumni Association. “There is a bridge from generation to generation at Norwich. Our alumni are committed to sharing their passion for the University with the students of today and tomorrow.”

Bridges were very much part of the Norwich landscape in 2009, both figuratively and literally. On June 9, a crane gingerly lowered two 63-foot steel girders into the granite-clad abutments flanking University Drive. Crews added the Brazilian walnut decking and glass sides in the following weeks. By midsummer, Norwich had a handsome pedestrian bridge linking the UP to South Hall, Norwich University’s newest dormitory.

The bridge is also a link to the University’s commitment to have nearly all undergraduates, Corps members and civilians, living on campus by 2019 — an integral part of the vision for Norwich as it enters its third century.

The Norwich Forever! campaign comes to a close in December 2009. With the University’s Board of Trustees planning to publicly launch the next full-blown campaign in 2015, Norwich will bridge the gap between now and then with a focused fundraising effort concentrating on a selective list of priorities.

“The Norwich family has made an extraordinary commitment to the Norwich Forever! campaign, which will conclude this fall — a year earlier than planned. We continue to have many pressing needs across the campus, so it simply would not make sense to stop our fundraising efforts. We want to capitalize on the momentum of these extraordinary results,” said Mark Kisiel ’59, incoming Chairman of the Board of Trustees Development Committee. “We are totally focused on improving the student life experience. By 2019 we want all of our students living on campus. We want them to want to be here, so we need to keep investing in our campus and our students.”

The next fundraising effort will not be a traditional campaign. There will be no “quiet phase,” with fundraising taking place behind the scenes before a public campaign launch. Nor will it be a five- or seven-year endeavor.

Rather, it will be limited in time and scope. This initiative, which will begin in January 2010, will feature a small number of priorities and will focus principally on academics and student life. These upcoming investments in student life — combined with the opening of Phase II of the athletic complex in August 2010 — will give students a fuller collegiate experience: More to do on evenings and weekends through a wider range of activities.

“All of our students need outlets to recreate, have fun and learn and grow in an experiential environment. That’s really at the heart of what we’re attempting to do,” said Vice President of Student Affairs and Commandant Michael Kelley ’74.

More than 1,000 members of the Norwich family — students, alumni, faculty, and staff — participated in the drafting of NU2019, the single document that expresses Norwich University’s vision for what it will look like in 2019, the bicentennial of Captain Partridge’s founding of the institution. Norwich hasn’t yet realized that vision, but it is building a bridge to reach the goals of NU2019.

“We’re not there yet. But we’re committed to getting there,” said Trustee Stephen Rippe ’70, who chairs the board’s Retention Committee. “With the support of alumni and friends, we will make Norwich stronger than ever and provide our students with a well-rounded and fulfilling residential campus experience. I know we can do it.”

Expecting Challenge...

Ally Daniels '10 was recruited to Norwich to play basketball, but it was lacrosse that tipped the balance. The Concord, New Hampshire native, who has been involved in organized athletics since the second grade, couldn't pass up the chance to play two intercollegiate sports. "Lacrosse was a bonus," says Daniels. "The other school I was strongly considering didn't have a team."

Daniels also relished the opportunity to be a part of history. "It was going to be the first year as a varsity program for lacrosse, so I thought that would be exciting, kind of historic," she says.

In addition, the prospect of attending a school that had both a military and civilian component intrigued her. "I thought that would be an experience I absolutely couldn't get anywhere else," she says.

As far as Norwich is concerned, the benefit has been entirely mutual. This past spring the junior midfielder finished the lax season as the top point-getter with 64 goals, 25 assists, and a better than .500 shot percentage. On the basketball court, the two-time captain finished the season second in points. Only her younger sister Christine, a sophomore, garnered more.

The Daniels sisters are just two of the many female students at Norwich who were initially drawn to the school because of athletic opportunities: Since the addition of women's lacrosse and volleyball and the elevation of women's rugby and ice hockey to varsity status, there has been a 46% increase in the number of women participating on teams.

According to Athletics Director Tony Mariano, this increase in participation is "a direct result of recruiting specifically for these programs," which in turn helps with student retention, a major focus of the current administration. "I've been told that we retain female athletes better than any other group on campus," adds Senior Women's Athletic Administrator Amanda CuiFFo. "Some of them are in our toughest majors at Norwich and are doing quite well, while playing one or two sports."

Daniels, a biology major who plans to attend grad school for nursing, is a prime example. According to her basketball coach of the past three years, Mark Miller, Ally's work ethic is second to none. "Academics are really, really important to her," Miller says. "She's an extremely focused student who works very, very hard, which kind of sets the tone."

This attitude carries over to the playing field, where she leads by example. "Ally's that quiet leader who motivates by working really hard and pushing her teammates." Miller says.

The Daniels sisters, the second and third oldest in a family of 12 children, receive a generous financial aid package from the University, another factor that helps with student retention. "Without the scholarships and grants from the school it would be impossible for my sister and me to stay at Norwich," Daniels says.

According to Head Women's Soccer and Lacrosse Coach Tyler Renaud, the University's ongoing commitment to recruit and retain female athletes bodes extremely well for the future of Norwich. "The fact all the women's programs year in and year out are competing for conference championships and NCAA Championship berths will continue to improve not only female interest from an initial enrollment standpoint, but should also improve retention of existing NU scholar athletes, as they are motivated to do well academically in order to be eligible to play intercollegiate athletics."

...Achieving Distinction

When Arturo Diaz was accepted to Norwich three years ago, he wasn't at all sure he wanted to attend. The Vernon, New Jersey native had just completed four years of military high school, and while he knew he wanted an Army commission through ROTC, what he didn't know was if he could tolerate four more years of a Corps of Cadets lifestyle.

Then he learned that Norwich had a drill team. "Drill is my number one passion," says Diaz, who competed on the drill team at Carson Long Military Institute in Bloomfield, Pennsylvania. "When I came for my visit as a prospective student, I went to a practice, saw what they could do, and I was just in love."

It's a love affair that has lasted. Now a senior, Diaz has risen from lowly rook to Drill Company commander and drill master of Shock Platoon. A young man of multiple talents, he sings in both the Men's Chorus and the Regimental Quartet.

He also found that while tedious at times, Norwich's brand of military lifestyle didn't prove too difficult to bear after the strict regimen he had been subjected to in high school. "I had more freedom here as a rook than I did as a senior in my old school, even with all my privileges," he says.

With Professor Sue Yesalonia at the AAHPERD awards banquet

It was with Shock Platoon, however, that the grandson of a Cuban political refugee really found his niche. "When I got to be with so many people who had the same passion that I had, I knew this was where I belonged."

A physical education and teacher education major, Diaz says he has used what he has learned in his classes to improve his skill as a drill instructor, which in turn has helped him discover his deep love of teaching. "I've been able to enhance the drill program through being a better instructor," Diaz says, "and that has inspired and excited me about the teaching profession."

Diaz's promise as a teacher has not gone unrecognized. This past year he was honored as a Vermont 2009 Outstanding Future Professional in the field of physical education by the Eastern District Association of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD), a selection based on academic excellence, service and leadership in physical education at Norwich University and in the community.

According to Assistant Professor of Physical Education Sue Yesalonia, the honor is well-deserved. "Arturo is always seeking to achieve. He is always the first to step up and take leadership."

His academic adviser, Professor Elizabeth Wuorinen, agrees. "Arturo has grown to love the physical education profession. He has talked about his desire to teach when he completes his military service, and his demeanor leads me to believe that he will do an outstanding job."

The recipient of a Class of 1960 scholarship and an Army ROTC scholarship, Diaz takes nothing for granted. "I'm getting a really good college education, and I get to do what I love. You can't put a price on that."

Class Giving Highlights

Norwich University wants to recognize classes that, as a group, showed exemplary commitment to our students by making gifts during the past fiscal year. Classes that celebrated – or were gearing up to celebrate – reunions during fiscal 2009 are particularly well represented in the lists below; these are class years ending with a 3, 4, 8 or 9. However, because many alumni make five-year pledges as part of their class reunion celebration, non-reunion giving is also significant.

Congratulations to all of the classes listed here. Thank you for investing in the future of our students!
